QUAIL RUN NEEDLEWORK

Monthly Newsletter | June 2015

Do you have a challenge piece? One of the gals I work with encouraged me to do one this year. I do not get much time for my own stitching so this was a way to spend time on something that has been in my stash. This wonderful design, "My Favorite Things" by Labors of love is coming along well. I am using the song of course for inspiration, so I made the pots very shiny. I will do the roses in silk ribbon last. The clouds are just the simple skip tent stitch using Accentuate to let the shading show through. I am experimenting with several darning patterns for the background areas but just have not found the right combination yet. I am also stitching a wedding gift that will be a pillow and will show a picture once the gift is given.

My Favorite Things, 17"x13" on 18 ct. $298

Lots of new things ordered from the Columbus market- from canvases, lights, books and thread. Come in and see what is new!

Tote bag

Wonderful initial tote bag stitched for a daughter by her loving father.

Favorite Find

Tulip Beading Needle Assortment $8.40

This is a great assorted beading needle pack to have in your stitching bag. From Tulip Company, there is a #10 short and long, as well as #11 and #12 long in the little tube. These needles are strong yet flexible with a rounded tip to avoid splitting the beading thread. Come visit the store and try one!

New Items

Project Totes

Clear totes in three sizes. My favorite is the large one with the divided interior so your canvas is protected, as well as a front pocket for your stitch guide, tools etc. $5, $12, $24

It's About Darn Time by Sharon G

There are 147 pages of darning patterns and stitching tips in this portable book. Just what you need to help you with the perfect stitch on your current project. $48

Fun Map Canvas

These colorful USA maps are 19x13" on 13 mesh ($158). They would be a wonderful, as well as educational, addition to any child's room. The boy's version has blues and greens in the border, while the girl's version has pinks and roses in the border.
